

GOD

Landslips, floods

At least fifty killed

By A Staff Reporter

Kathmandu, July 20:

Rivers swollen by incessant rains washed away at least seven bridges on major highways along the Naubise-Mugling highway, Tribhuvan Rajpath and Hetauda-Narayanghat highway cutting off the road link between the capital and the outlying districts, officials said.

At least 35 people were killed and 23 injured or missing in floods and landslides sparked off by heavy rains on Sunday and Monday in different parts of the country.

A home ministry official said nine bodies had been recovered at Chaksibote village development committee in Taplejung district where 18 members of seven families were washed away. The condition of two people is serious while the search for the others is under way.

Twenty-two people were killed in landslides at Amarapur village in the district where 21 bodies were recovered while 10 could not be retrieved.

A rescue helicopter was injured for could not land.

A spokesman for Works and Transport on the Malekhu bridge along the road has been severely swollen.

unfit for vehicular traffic. The Malekhu bridge which is 71 kilometres from the capital was severely damaged by floods and rebuilt eight years ago.

Among other bridges which have been washed away are the ones over Agrarvuler at Mahadev Bensi, 37 kilometres from Kathmandu and Belkhu, 53 kilometres from here on the Naubise-Mugling Highway. Mawa bridge, 83 kilometres from the capital has also been washed away in Dhading district. The Trishuli river has washed away about 150 metres of the highway at Pokhara. Khola, five kilometres south of Bhainsise, 122 kilometres from the capital, was washed away at Pokhara.

Damage caused by the flood hit off the the capital.

As the Manahara river in Makawanpur district have surrounded Belawa village where about 2000 villagers have been marooned. Efforts are being made to evacuate the villagers to safer places.

However, since the river is in spate it has made plying the rescue boats difficult. A helicopter sent from Kathmandu had to return without landing due to bad weather. Local Army, local political and social workers washed the 15

Page 8

7/22

7/23

Death toll reaches 260; 102 missing

Kathmandu, July 22 (RSS):

The death toll in floods and landslides in different parts of the country has reached 260, according to the Home Ministry.

Likewise, 102 people are missing and 35 injured by floods and landslides. According to the Home Ministry, 118 people have been killed and nine persons swept away in Sarlahi district while 88 people have been killed, 39 are missing and five injured in Makwanpur district.

Likewise, 22 people have been killed and 15 injured in Panchthar district while 10 people were killed, 19 people are missing and six injured in Taplejung district.

Meanwhile, eight people have been killed, seven people are missing and two injured in Dhading district, seven killed, four are missing and three injured in Rautahat district, and four killed, 22 are missing.

Meanwhile five teams consisting of veterinary doctors have been dispatched towards Siraha, Rautahat, Dhanusha, and Panchthar, Morang, Taplejung and Panchthar districts with necessary medicines and medical equipments.

Cattle diseases have also been spread out and cattle feed shortage are being felt in the flood hit districts, it is reported.

formation houses at bazar way. Army, twice official relief

7/22

7/23

7/22

7/22

7/22

Flood-affected areas inspected

Kathmandu, July 22 (RSS):

A team comprising Assistant Minister for Works and Transport Shiva Raj Joshi, the director general of Department of Roads and various representatives of the flood-affected areas from Bherapur, Bagmati, Highway Prithvi ways, Thelam and the capital city

Highway Prithvi ways, Thelam and the capital city

Highway Prithvi ways, Thelam and the capital city

Highway Prithvi ways, Thelam and the capital city

Highway Prithvi ways, Thelam and the capital city

Highway Prithvi ways, Thelam and the capital city

Highway Prithvi ways, Thelam and the capital city

FLOOD Rain forecast

Kathmandu, July 22 (RSS):

Weather maps and satellite photos show that as the low pressure region over the eastern and central part of the kingdom has started drifting southwards from today decrease in rainfall is expected.

The Department of Meteorology told the journalists of the kingdom expected the western and mid-western areas over the region and expects thunder.

Flood kills 18,000 cattle

Kathmandu, July 29 (RSS):

About eighteen thousands of cattle have been killed by the recent floods of Sarlahi, Rautahat and Chitwan districts according to the Agricultural Tools Division.

Out of the total cattle killed in the floods were ten thousands in Sarlahi, Seven thousands in Rautahat and one thousand in Chitwan district it is learnt.

Meanwhile five teams consisting of veterinary doctors have been dispatched towards Siraha, Rautahat, Dhanusha, and Panchthar, Morang, Taplejung and Panchthar districts with necessary medicines and medical equipments.

Cattle diseases have also been spread out and cattle feed shortage are being felt in the flood hit districts, it is reported.

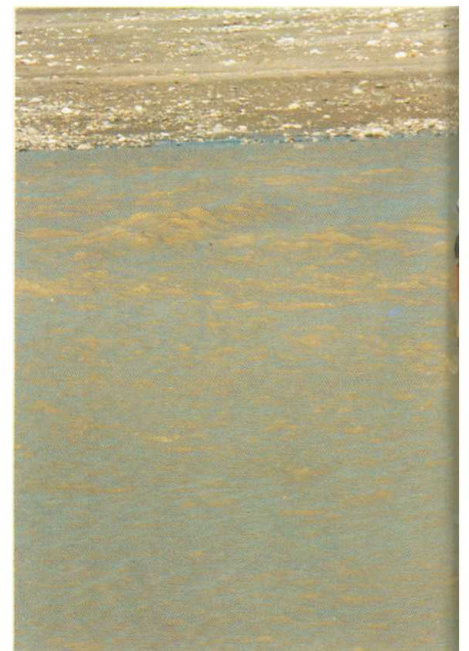

DEBRIS FLOW

HELP !! Help !!

At the confluence of Manahari River

Manahari River at the confluence with East Rapti River w

There was a irrigation canal which was completely destroyed.

ere the village situated at an island was completely swept.

